BATTLE BEGUN ON CONSTITUTIONALITY OF WAR PROHIBITION

Case Being Argued Today in the Supreme Court by Big Array of Legal Talent

Attorney for Anti-Saloon League Given Permission to File a Brief

Washington, Nov. 20—Attorneys for the liquor interests and the government began their regular battle on the constitutionality of the war time prohibition act before the supreme court today.

The opening move was a request of W. B. Wheeler, counsel for the anti-saloon league, to file a brief in support of the government. That was granted by Chief Justice White. The court room was filled to capacity and throngs were lined up outside waiting for an opportunity to get in.

Elihu Root, Levy Mayer and Wm. Bullitt were in the court room behind a mass of papers to make arguments for the liquor interests. Assistant Attorney General Pierson was ready to make the main argument for the government, assisted by Solicitor General King. The anti-saloon league, in its brief claims prohibition is necessary to the welfare of the country.

Says Mob Law and Hoodlum Officers will not be Tolerated

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 20—Ernest Lundeen, former congressman, who was "spirited" out of Ortonville in a freight car Monday night, and released at Appleton when his screams attracted the attention of the crew, demanded action by Governor Burnquist in a letter today.

"Mob laws and hoodlum officers will not be tolerated by the people of Minnesota," Lundeen wrote, "and if your officers do not act I will."

The letter went into detail of the Ortonville incident. Governor Burnquist said no formal complaint had been filed against any officer, and that no names were mentioned in the communication. He said he would act if the complaint was filed in a proper manner.

Pandolfo Methods Aired in Court

Chicago, Nov. 19—Business and promotion methods used by Samuel C. Pandolfo, president of the Pan Motor company, figured today in the trial of the officials before Judge Landis.

C. K. Henshall, former secretary of the Pan-American Investment company of San Antonio, Texas admitted through cross examination, the company was organized in 1914 to help Pandolfo get credit. Pandolfo was at that time connected with the Pan-American insurance agency. The Pan-American company, he said, was to accumulate and loan money. The accumulation was to be accomplished by stock selling, and then loaned to Pandolfo. Henshall said $3,000 was collected.

W. J. Murphy, of San Antonio, Vice President of the insurance company, testified that in 1914 he was a collection agent for Pandolfo insurance company. He attributes Pandolfo's difficulty in obtaining credit to the failure of the cotton crop.

PEACE TREATY EFFECTIVE DEC. 1

(By United Press)
Paris, Nov. 20—The peace treaty will become effective December 1, the supreme council decided today. Nations which have accepted the treaty will exchange final ratification in time for the pact to become effective on that date.

By RAYMOND CLAPPER

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, Nov. 20—President Wilson is expected to submit the beaten peace treaty to the next session of congress starting December 1 in another attempt to obtain its ratification.

The peace treaty is dead today, so far as the senate is concerned. It went back to Wilson following a failure of ratification vote at the spectacular final session last night. Senator Lodge's resolution of ratification, containing reservations, was turned down 41 to 51. The resolution of unqualified ratification was defeated 23 to 53.

Senator Hitchcock, who handled the administration forces, during the long fight just ended, declared today Wilson would submit the treaty to the next session of congress. A compromise then will be heard on the basis of the Lodge reservations slightly modified, republican senators of the mild reservationists group said today.

Failure to ratify the treaty at the special session marked the end of the first sitting of the new republican congress which began May 19.

What was to have been the greatest reconstruction session struck an early snag in the treaty, and all attempts to enact a program of domestic legislation toward the country back on a peace time basis failed.

Pressing reconsideration questions upon which congress failed to act include: "Return of the railroads, reorganization of the army on a peace basis, repeal of the war time luxury tax, establishment of merchant marine policy, opening of public lands by soldier settlements, development of water power sights on public lands, opening up of oil, coal and phosphate lands, government control of the meat packing industry and revision of the court martial system."

When congress goes back December 1, action on these measures will still be blocked until the treaty is disposed of. Senate leaders expect to push for prompt action on the treaty to clear the way for domestic legislation.

Complicating the treaty fight at the next session will be the Lodge resolution to declare the war at an end which he introduced late last night. Republican leaders will use this as a club to force speedy action on treaty reservations. It is expected this Lodge resolution can be carried by a majority which can be easily obtained in both Houses if it is declared by republican senators. Should administration senators fail to get together with republicans on the compromise campaign as soon as the new session begins, the senate for

VISCOUNT ASTOR

Waldorf Astor has inherited the title and much of the great fortune of his father, the late Viscount Astor of Never Castle.

Belief in some quarters that the President would call another special session before December 1, and force the senate to resume consideration of the treaty was scouted by Senator Hitchcock, administration leader. He announced he will go to his home in Omaha during the recess, and that there is no intention of calling another session so far as he knows.

The senate's action in refusing to ratify the peace treaty marked the climax of one of the most bitter political battles since the founding of the government. For the first time in American history the senate openly challenged the President's traditional supremacy in foreign affairs.

Treaties fixing the Belgian boundary, establishing Polish claims to new territory, defining new boundaries of Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Belgium are still to come before the senate.

President Says Great Middle West Must Stop Paying Tribute to New York

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 20—The great middle west must be stopped from paying tribute to the port of New York, said H. Merrick, President of the Mississippi Valley Association here today.

"53 per cent of the people of the United States live in the Mississippi valley," Merrick told the business men at the opening of the meeting of the St. Paul association.

"Our association is the medium through which business men, farmers and all the people may combine to bring more industry into this region, increasing agricultural products, and providing better transportation facilities."

Governors of twenty-two states in the valley, forty-four senators and three hundred and twenty congressmen plan to attend a Mississippi valley conference in Washington, D. C. December 8 and 9.

John Kendrick's Bangs After Tour of 40 States Sees Spontaneous Call for General

Lead, S. D., Nov. 19—Deedwood and Lawrence county Republicans in conventions yesterday indorsed Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood for president and Governor Peter Norbeck for United States senator.

Minneapolis, Nov. 19—Gen. Leonard Wood will be the next president of the United States in the opinion of John Kendrick Bangs, writer, globetrotter, lecturer, humorist and "humanist," who came to Minneapolis yesterday after a tour of 40 states. In an interview Mr. Bangs said:

"There is a spontaneous call for General Wood for president in the 46 states I have visited since July," said Mr. Bangs.

"Mr. McAdoo or Attorney General Palmer will be the democratic nominee for president."

Mr. Bangs came to Minneapolis to address members of the Woman's club late yesterday on "Light and Sunshine in the Land of Valor"—a lecture dealing with his visits to France during the war and last spring.

"I have been told by many persons," said Mr. Bangs in his room at the Radisson, "that food is the big idea in the minds of the people now and will be, and that consequently they will turn to Mr. Hoover as the next head of the nation."

Want Protection
"This has not been borne out by my experiences with audiences all over the nation in the past few months. Protection is what the people are thinking of."

"They have seen race riots and I. W. W. riots and they know in a secondhand but fairly vivid way what war is. They want a man at the head of affairs who stands for law and order and who knows how to use the tools of law and order."

"In a recent lecture to 1,400 persons in Brooklyn, N. Y., there was applause of one minute's duration

Governor Harding of Iowa, Consults Other Governors on Siezing Mines for State Operation

(By United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, Nov. 20—Coal operators today made their first offer of increased wages to miners, 400,000 of whom are on strike.

The offer included an increase of 15c a ton to machine miners, who are paid on the piece basis, and an increase of 20c to other workers who are paid by the day.

Wants to Seize Mines
Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 20—Governor Harding, of Iowa, today wired governors of nine soft coal producing states recommending state seizure and operation of the mines in an effort to end the strike and induce miners to return to work.

Governor Harding suggested the state guarantee the strikers 60% increase in wages.

No Agreement in Coal Situation
Washington, Nov. 20—Coal operators and miners seem far from agreement today as the nation begins to feel the coal shortage.

In the south domestic consumers have been allowed one ton to a household under the direction of the regional rationing committee of the railroad administration.

Despite the optimistic view of officials that this would be settled within a few days, few of the 400,000 miners who struck Nov. 1 have gone back to work.

Plans Political Race
"General Wood won the respect of capital and labor alike by the way he handled the Gary situation and he won the respect of all law abiding citizens by his work during the Omaha race riots."

"I want to say that the first thing in reconstruction is the winning of the war against the I. W. W. that came to a head at Centralia. Those murders brought about a declaration of war on the I. W. W. and other Bolshevik elements. It showed the nation just what the enemy is, just as the sinking of the Lusitania did. Both events are historical landmarks."

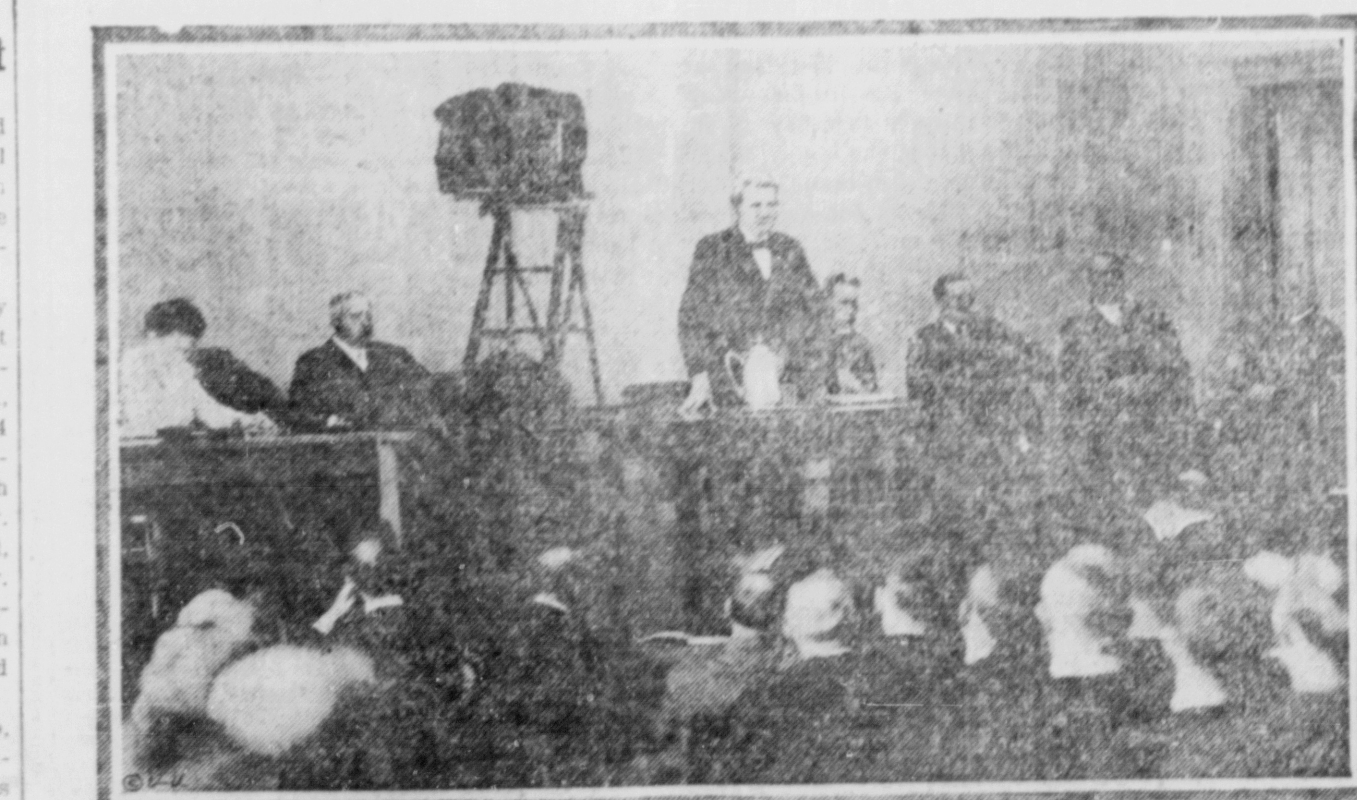

"The I. W. W. is aggressively vicious. Its creed is destruction. Its end is the murderous tangle into which Russia has tumbled. I am sorry to say that the parlor Bolsheviks, highly intellectual but highly unintelligent, have helped to give the I. W. W. their present arrogance. You will find many of these parlor Bolsheviks in our schools and colleges."

Favors Training of Body
Mr. Bangs said that America will lose a great lesson of the war—the value of physical training—if it does not adopt universal military training.

"I don't care very much which we adopt," said Mr. Bangs. "But we ought to see that people develop their bodies as well as their minds. Every public school should have setting up exercises every morning. Nothing makes for duty so much as physical exercise."

Wearing of Pearls.
It is a well-established fact that the more pearls are worn, particularly next to the skin, the more they increase in beauty and value. If worn for any considerable length of time their luster becomes dimmed.

RATIFICATION OF PEACE TREATY DEFEATED

believe he would swallow defeat on the treaty and league of nations in the interest of which he has already sacrificed his health.

The President, it was learned, is working on a statement to the people, telling them that chaos controls the world as a result of the treaty failure, that it is a victory for bolsheviki and Germany and put the blame on leaders of opposition in the senate.

His hottest shot may be reserved for his measure to the regular session of congress to meet December 1, to which he intends to submit the treaty. One of the first moves he was expected to make was the formal withdrawal of the treaty from congress where it has been laid on the table so it can be presented again.

Failure of the treaty knocked the ground from under the hope that there would be a "wet Christmas." This belief, through peace treaty ratification, is farther away than ever before it seemed.

The only chance of the wets was that the President would issue a proclamation of peace and lift the prohibition ban regardless of consequences but this seemed hardly probable.

The administration today was awaiting the world's reaction to the peace treaty defeat. Government officials believe it would be a heavier shock to other nations which participated in the peace conference. He pointed out that America took the lead throughout, and now refuses to accept the document, or be a party to any arrangement it sets up.

President Wilson himself is known to believe that with the United States standing aloof, Europe is liable to be plunged into another war worse than the one just past, in which this country will again become involved.

Those close to him say he regarded the league of nations as the only safeguard against this, and therefore he expects to continue his fight. If the league should hold together without the United States and Germany—the two most important countries out from the league—they would be thrown together in a jumble, and that is the object toward which German propaganda is working.

If the President does not manifest the spirit of having "just begun to fight" many of his friends maintain renewed misgivings for his health, it was learned. His interests in the treaty and the league are known to have been intense and feeling he was in honor bound to Lloyd George, Clemenceau and other colleagues of Versailles to secure ratification and to make good in their eyes.

The check to the peace treaty leaves the United States still in a technical state of war with war laws remaining in effect. Some of which are the Lever act, war prohibition, the espionage and other laws. It also leaves in the President's hands his war time power, including that of ordering troops overseas, so he can continue to send soldiers to Europe and carry out the terms of the treaty after it has been turned down.

Senators Consult with President Plans with regard to action on the treaty were to be discussed today by Hitchcock and Secretary Tumulty.

Senators Hitchcock and Underwood called at the White House this morning, but were unable to see Tumulty as he was with the President.

Hitchcock said he intends to return late this afternoon. His only comment upon the defeat of the treaty was: "At least we are still alive."

President Wilson and Tumulty three hundred and twenty congress-House this morning.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat, which forms uric acid.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

LACE IS DESIRABLE FABRIC

Decoration in Favor of Blouses, Evening Gowns, Headgear and for the Face.

Lace is one of the most desired fabrics of the year. Lace for blouses, for evening gowns under tulle or over it to hide one's face and to cover hats is again the fashion. It's in, it's out, it's in again, is the way fashion counts when it plays hide and seek—which is very often. We only become habituated to a mode when we are told we can wear it no longer. For the present we may wear lace. Fillet, threaded net, and the thinly-darned meshes are the most attractive used in blouses and lace seems to have rather ousted chiffon and georgette, although for a tunic either one of these two latter fabrics are still shown in every shop and worn by most women—reasons to turn to lace it seems. Black lace with a jet edge and a ribbon belt of black and brown is a delightful combination for a blouse to wear with a dark brown coat and skirt. Because lace and fur seem so unsuited to one another must be a reason why designers sew them together.

Face Lotion.

A soothing face lotion, good for general use, is made from three ounces of rosewater, one ounce of glycerin and half a tablespoonful of tincture of benzoin.

Coats of Velours.

Separate coats of velours and other popular fabrics are in almost every case fur trimmed.

HAVE ROSY CHEEKS AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY—TRY THIS!

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constitution, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

CAR WASTE CONTINUES

Some time ago the country was given the news that thousands of automobiles, purchased by the government during the war for war purposes, stood out in wind and weather, exposed to all the elements, and were about to rot and rust away at certain government depots.

This criminal waste of good material and workmanship was an evidence of the spirit of thrift being badly abused.

How much better had it been for the war department or whichever department is in charge of wasting material in such a way, to have made a present of one of these cars to every city and hamlet in the United States and to every county.

That would have quickly solved the question of a car for the visiting nurse, a car for the county engineer. Had there still been a surplus, a car could have been given every Liberty Loan drive county chairman. Such officer in nearly every case wore out a car covering his district.

As the government cannot accept or dispose of anything without consideration, a nominal fee of $1 could be named to cover cost of bookkeeping in the matter.

In the meantime, the cars, with no news to the contrary, are continuing out in rain and snow and disintegrating. Who is to blame for such an abuse of the spirit of thrift which should be one of the national assets and virtues of the nation and its people?

Insects That Walk on Water.

Insects that walk on the water by means of pneumatic floats are the familiar spider and the pond skater. The pond skater really walks on pneumatic floats. There are tiny hairs on the feet of this insect, so fine that they cannot be seen, that are arranged to collect air. The amount collected in and about these hairs is sufficient to allow the insects to walk or float on the surface of the water. As each foot is put down it forms a cuplike depression, or tiny pit, in the water. The foot does not sink, because the air bubble that has been formed is too light to let it. A fine covering of hair protects the water spider, too, and even if it is submerged in the water it is never really wet; the hair keeps a layer of air between its body and the water. It looks like a white pearl when below the surface.

All That Is Left of the Mastodon.

An early find of mastodon bones from Shawangunk, Ulster county, New York, was presented to the University of Virginia by Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States, who, like Theodore Roosevelt, twenty-sixth president, was an enthusiastic naturalist. It is noted by natural history that after the great transcontinental glacier receded large marshes were left in the region where these bones were unearthed, and in them these animals frequently became mired. Both Ulster and Orange counties have been prolific in mastodon remains. The Warren mastodon, dug up near Newburg in 1845, and now in the American museum, is the most perfect skeleton so far found. Bones are frequently turned up by farmers, and the specimens have even included hair, long, dense and shaggy, and of dark golden-brown color.

DO YOU BELONG TO FARM BUREAU?

Farm Bureaus, Now Nationally Federated, is Largest Farm Movement Ever Attempted

NEW MEMBERS JOINING HERE

Farm Bureau Aims to Uphold Rights of Agricultural Workers and Their Constant Welfare

BY E. G. ROTH

(County Agricultural Agent)

Are you a Farm Bureau member? The County Farm Bureaus were organized into a State Federation of Farm Bureaus November 8th in a big meeting in St. Paul at which 60 different counties met and decided for State Federation. They adopted by-laws and a constitution forming state policies to govern farm bureau work throughout Minnesota.

On November 15th, 25 State Farm Bureaus met in Chicago and organized a National Federation of Farm Bureaus. This makes this movement the strongest, largest farm movement ever attempted anywhere in the world and warrants the support and cooperation and interest of every farmer in the country. Are you a member of your County Farm Bureau? Is your name on the list of those paid up for 1920? The big year of Farm Bureau membership? It marks the beginning of when farming cooperation will rank high with the organizations of other classes. It is by numbers that it becomes strong and powerful. If you are not a member, see that your name is entered on the list. Send in your application either to E. E. Taylor, secretary of the Farm Bureau or to County Agent Roth, Brainerd.

See that your name is on the next publication. Let us make the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau one of the strongest in Minnesota! Let us show the other counties that the farmers of this county are as live and wide-awake to farming interests as anywhere in the county. The Farm Bureau is not a political organization, but warrants the support of every true farmer in the county for it stands for all that is good in agriculture, believes in the representation of farming interests where farming interests are involved. The Federation of Farm Bureaus aims to co-relate and unify all existing things working for the welfare of agriculture, to express the sentiment of farm people regarding farming questions and uphold the rights of agricultural workers as compared with the workers of other classes.

Livingstone Memorial Tree.

One of the most curious memorials of Livingstone is the "name tree," near Victoria Falls, on the Zambesi. On the trunk Livingstone cut his initials and the date 1855 on the day of his first visit to the falls. In his book giving an account of this Livingstone says: "This was the only instance in which I indulged in this piece of vanity."

MILLION TO BE SPENT BY SALVATION ARMY

$200,000 Minneapolis Structure is Voted—28 Corps Buildings Will be Erected

Construction of a $200,000 provincial Salvation Army building in Minneapolis, $100,000 addition to the Rescue home and Maternity hospital for women and children in the Midway district, a central building in St. Paul and 28 new corps headquarters buildings in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, aggregating a cost of approximately $1,000,000 will be started early next spring Salvation Army officials announced today.

Three sites are being considered and definite selection will be made by the local board, which also will determine the St. Paul site.

Provincial Offices in Minneapolis. Provincial offices for North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and upper Michigan, the states comprising the northern province, will be in the new building, together with a large auditorium, educational and recreational facilities for men, and special offices.

A young women's boarding home, to care for working girls, will be established in Minneapolis.

Although the cost of the corps headquarters will vary, none will cost less than $25,000, and in most cases they will run between $35,000 and $40,000, officials said.

Building Locations Listed

Towns in Minnesota, North and South Dakota which will have new buildings are Bemidji, Brainerd, Mankato, Albert Lea, Red Wing, Two Harbors, Austin, Rochester, Thief River Falls, Virginia, Duluth, St. Cloud, Stillwater and Winona, Minn.; Aberdeen, Huron, Lead, Rapid City, Sioux Falls and Watertown, S. D.; Bismarck, Devils Lake, Dickinson, Fargo, Grand Forks, Jamestown, Minot, Valley City and Williston, N. D.

The congress closes tonight with an open mass meeting, at which several overseas workers of the Army will relate their experiences. Colonel T. E. Hiffe of London, who helped frame Great Britain's relief work, will speak.

ENDED IDOLATRY IN HAWAII

Brave Act of Kapiolani, Daughter of Chief, Resulted in Establishing Christianity There.

No longer do the fire lakes in the great crater of Kilauea carry terror to the soul of Hawaii as a message from the dreaded fire god, Pele. It is a century since Kapiolani, daughter of Kewahimani, high chief of the district of Hilo, and wife of Natho, high chief of Kona, and the national orator, defied the fire goddess, and turned her people from the idolatry. Prior to that time the superstition ran that whenever Pele stamped her foot on the bottom of the volcano Mauna Loa, her "House of Everlasting Fire," there were earthquakes. If she became angered with hapless lovers, or any who failed to worship her, she was credited with pouring out torrents of lava and liquid flame. All who went near the crater were expected to do so with humility and sacrifice, and high priests of the goddess kept the people in awe. People gave their dead to the volcano, hoping they would become ghost gods to aid them. Then Kapiolani, in 1820, after three years teaching at the feet of missionaries, accepted Christianity, and did what is recorded as one of the greatest acts of moral courage ever performed. She visited the volcano against the advice of her husband and friends, and hurled stones into the pit, and ate of the enchanted berries near it. She defied the goddess. Before going up she left a message, saying that if she didn't return, her people should continue to worship Pele, but if she did they should accept the new teachings. Her return safely banished the hold of idolatry in Hawaii.

Hindu Children Mechanics.

Hindu children are remarkable for their precocity. Many of them are skilful workmen at an age when the children of other nations are learning the alphabet. A boy of seven may be a skilful wood carver, while some of the handsomest rugs are woven by children not yet in their teens.

PROGRESS WITH SAVINGS

Pupils of Franklin Building Have $5,938.40 in Savings, Ironton Building $3,151.01 (Ironton News)

High school 194
 Junior high school 156

having an average of 97.91 per cent. The Franklin building and the Ironton building are making progress with savings accounts. The pupils of the Franklin building have $5,938.40 and the pupils of the Ironton building have $3,151.01. The banner room is Miss Cora Raymond's room at the Franklin building with $1,295.96. The teaching of thrift is being urged by all school authorities. We want every room in our schools shown in our next report including high school by grades. Teachers and pupils should try to make a good showing for their rooms.

The Minnesota Educational Association was the largest and most important meeting ever held by the teachers of the state. Over seven thousand teachers were enrolled and by the crowds found at the different meeting places, one would think that all were in attendance.

Our schools were well represented. The Senior High school closed and all the instructors attended the convention. The Ironton building sent nine and the Franklin building sent three and one attended from the Junior high school.

There are 295 pupils enrolled in the first grade. The banner room in average attendance for the first six weeks was Miss Angelle Behan's room at the Franklin building with an average of 98.55. Miss Bradley's room at the Franklin building was

NATURE'S MIRROR

When a woman is well and healthy—there's a sparkle in her eyes, a rose tint in her cheeks, and she has rich red blood. There's elasticity in every movement and a spring in her step. Love comes to every woman who has bounding health—but when she is pallid, dull eyed, languid, she has no magnetism nor does she appeal to any man.

Such a change in feelings and looks!

After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged down by weaknesses of her sex—with eyes sunken, black circles and pale cheeks—such a woman is quickly restored to health by the Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce. Changed, too, in looks, for after taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the skin becomes clear, the eyes brighter, the cheeks plump. It is purely vegetable, contains no alcohol.

Druggists sell it in tablets or liquid. Send Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y., 10c for trial package.

a close second with an average of 98.51 while Miss Frenette's room followed closely with 98.50. The Jefferson building had the highest average attendance for all rooms.

The program was inspiring, the discussions were practical and helpful to all. A strong teachers' federation is generally favored, but the move to join with the American Federation of Labor was defeated. A thorough reorganization of the Association was effected and by a unanimous vote the teachers agreed to demand higher salaries for next year. A committee was appointed to investigate and make recommendations to the teachers through a bulletin to be issued by the association.

JUDGE MC CLENAHAN HONORED BY GOV.

Appointed One of Trio of District Judges to Hear the Soldiers Bonus Case

IN THE STATE SUPREME COURT

Take Place of Three Justices Disqualified Because of Relationship to Beneficiaries

Governor J. A. A. Burnquist has appointed Judge W. S. McClenahan of the district court at Brainerd, one of three judges to hear the state supreme court appeal on the soldiers' bonus act.

In view of the fact that three members of the supreme court, Chief Justice Brown and Associate Justices Holt and Quinn, by reason of their relationship to several of the soldiers who are beneficiaries under the act, are within the disqualifying degree fixed by law, and are disqualified to act in the hearing or decision of the cause, the state constitution provides for the assignment of three district judges to act in their place.

Acting with Judge McClenahan of Brainerd will be Judge Herbert A. Dancer of St. Louis county and Judge S. D. Catherwood of Mower county.

REVIVAL MEETING AT BETHANY CHURCH

Rev. W. Westlund of Swedish Tabernacle, Minneapolis, is the Evangelist

ATTENDANCE IS INCREASING

Meetings Being Held Every Evening Starting at 7:45 O'clock—Sunday Big Day

The Swedish Bethany church, corner of Ninth and Maple streets South, is conducting a series of special meetings at the church this week.

Rev. W. Westlund, of Minneapolis, is the evangelist, and principal speaker. Rev. Westlund is superintendent of the Sunday school and assistant pastor of the Swedish Mission tabernacle, of Minneapolis, one of the largest churches in that city, having a seating capacity of over 3,000, and having a Sunday school enrollment of over 500 pupils. He is a powerful religious speaker and delivers a clear gospel message, especially interesting to the young people.

There has been a good attendance at the meetings and the interest is increasing every night, as is the attendance. There is special music by soloists and chorus every evening. Last week Rev. O. B. Olson of Crookston, was the speaker and there were several conversions.

Rev. P. G. Fallquist is local pastor of the church. Through an error in last evening's paper it was stated Rev. Westlund was preaching at the Baptist church, when it should have read at the Swedish Bethany church.

A hearty invitation is extended to all the Scandinavian people of the city to attend these services, which start at 7:45 each evening. Sunday there will be several meetings and a good time is expected.

PRIZE WINNERS ANNOUNCED

Crow Wing County Took Third Place in the Counties Exhibiting, Next Year Will be Better

County Agent Roth entered thirteen exhibits of Crow Wing county potatoes at the Duluth Potato show last week. He took with him a fine sample of what farmers in Crow Wing county can produce. Out of the thirteen samples taken, five of them were on the prize winning list.

HONOR LIST

Z. Barrett, Brainerd, won the third prize on Early Ohio.
W. H. Waffensmith, Bay Lake won fifth on Russets.
John Nelson, Brainerd, won fourth on Burbanks.
In the Boys' and Girls' contest:
Frank Christenson, Brainerd won first on Early Ohio.
Orlando Johnson, Pequot won fifth on Green Mountains.

Crow Wing county had a very small exhibit compared with the others present. St. Louis county which won first place, had an entry of over four hundred exhibits. Itasca had over one hundred exhibits. Crow Wing county won third place in the counties exhibiting.

Another year it is hoped to secure a sufficient number of entries for the potato show to place Crow Wing county where it rightfully belongs in the potato growing world, that is first, for quality and number of potatoes grown in Crow Wing county rank high in this northwest country.

(Contributed)

The car for the visiting school and city nurse has been ordered and is expected this week. Money has been given and pledged enough to pay for it but the drive will be continued to obtain enough for maintenance for a year if possible. The need for the car is more and more felt. The following notes are from the November Bulletin, Nursing Division, State Board of Health.

Dr. Emerson of Indianapolis says: "The nurse is the common denominator of all public health problems."

"A system of education however perfect, must fail if the physical and mental conditions of the persons to be educated be not healthy, responsive and alert."

"Good health is catching."
"Thirty-seven qualified graduate nurses are taking the four months Public Health course at the University of Minnesota."

Alaskan Fur Seals.

A tentative annual census of the Alaskan fur seals just made by Dr. G. Dallas Hanna indicates the strength of the herd as 524,269 animals of all ages, compared with 496,432 seals in 1918. The number of pups born, equivalent to the number of breeding cows, was 157,172, an increase over 1918 of 10 per cent in each class. The aggregate figures for 1919 do not include the seals taken for their skins.

According to the telegraphic reports, 22,027 fur-seal skins have been taken on St. Paul Island and 3,354 on St. George Island through the regular killing season ending Aug. 10. A special effort has been made to reduce the excess of large male seals, with the result that over 6,400 such skins have been taken.

Agreeable Outlook.

"I just now overheard an argument between a theorist and a hard headed business man."

"I presume the theorist said the business man lacked vision?"

"Oh, yes. That's a stock phrase among theorists who can't pay their board bills, but the business man said he could see a net profit of not less than $200,000 next year, with a little fling at Saratoga, Palm Beach or Monterey, and that was vision enough for him."

AMERICAN DEAD IN FRANCE TO REMAIN

BODIES OF THOSE HEROES ARE TO BE ALL INTERRED IN "FIELD OF HONOR" CEMETERIES.

APPROVED BY NEXT OF KIN

Work of the Graves Commission Established by General Pershing is Praised by President Moore of the Fine Arts Commission.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—It appears reasonably certain now that the bodies of the American soldiers who died in France during the world war, either from disease or in battle, will remain in the "field of honor" cemeteries that have been established in that country. The government from the first has been disposed to adopt a policy which would satisfy the greatest number of next of kin here at home. Through various methods the war department has undertaken to ascertain the sentiment of fathers and mothers and other near relatives of the men who fell and while, of course, it has not been possible to reach even a large per cent of the persons most interested, the department has been successful in getting expressions from a great many of the next of kin and very generally the expression is one of desire to have the bodies of the heroes remain in the "field of honor" cemeteries.

The late Col. Roosevelt was among the first of the fathers to say that he desired that the body of his son, killed while fighting a battle in the air, should remain over there. After Col. Roosevelt had given expression to that view the prevailing sentiment, which up to that time had seemed to favor a return of the bodies, underwent a change.

A definite policy has not yet been decided on by the war department but unless the next of kin shall make a protest, and the war department believes there is no possibility of that being done, the bodies will not be brought back. No nation ever took more interest in its soldier dead than the United States has been taking, and in taking in the proper disposition of the bodies of the men who gave their lives in the world war.

Work of Graves Commission.

It is now more than a year since the graves commission, an organization established by General Pershing after the signing of the armistice, began its work of collecting the dead, making sure of identification and assembling the bodies in the "field of honor" cemeteries. This work is by no means over, but it has reached the stage where the government is able to say that it has been able to account for nearly all the men who were lost in the war. It will never be possible, of course, to locate the body of every soldier that fell and be sure that the identification is correct. It is the testimony, however, of many persons who have been to France and back during recent months that the government has done a remarkable piece of work in locating isolated graves, identifying the men buried in them, and in assembling the bodies in the large cemeteries, where each grave is marked with a cross that bears the name of the soldier, if the name is available.

For the most part the American dead are being assembled in cemeteries that are to be in fact American cemeteries. Through an arrangement with the French government these cemeteries have been established, and will be under the control of the United States government. Uniform plans for them have been adopted. Each one is to be surrounded by a white fence, the paths are to be gravelled, and, as already noted, there is to be a cross at the head of each grave, which is to be the temporary marker. It is the intention of the government later to provide a stone for each grave. The war department says this will be done as soon as congress provides the money and the department expects to ask the legislative body to supply the money at the coming regular session.

Approved by Fine Arts Head.

The commission of fine arts recently sent its president, Charles Moore, to France to inspect the work of the graves commission, and Mr. Moore reported that everything is progressing in a most satisfactory way. He says the locations of the cemeteries are excellent and that the care given to the graves is increasingly good and that the plans which are being developed are such as will make these cemeteries sacred places to which relatives and friends may go with the certainty of finding that the graves are respected and honored, even beyond those in any military cemetery in our own country.

The government has definitely decided to bring home the bodies of all soldiers of the world war who gave up their lives in any country except France. One hundred and eleven bodies of Americans who passed away in northern Russia arrived only the other day at New York. The relatives were notified immediately and these bodies are now being sent to the next of kin at the government's expense. The soldiers who have died of disease in Germany since the American army of occupation entered that country are all buried there temporarily, but it is proposed to bring back all of those bodies.

PRESIDENT WELL ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

WASHINGTON THINKS HE WILL BE ON HIS FEET AGAIN BY FIRST OF THE YEAR.

TRUTH ABOUT HIS ILLNESS

It Was Nothing But Nervous Breakdown at First, but Alarming Collapse Followed—Public Business Well Conducted by the Cabinet.

By JAMES P. HORNADAY.

Washington.—It will soon be two months since President Wilson was stricken with illness. Now that he is traveling down the good broad highway of recovery, it will not be an indiscretion to say that for at least three weeks after he was forced to abandon his speaking tour his physicians and the members of his immediate family were greatly concerned about his condition. There never was the slightest ground for the sensational stories that traveled from month to month to the effect that the ailment was more than an ordinary breakdown, but the president was so completely prostrated physically that those persons attending him realized from the first that it would take careful nursing to bring back his strength.

It is not generally known that the alarming physical collapse did not occur until after the president reached Washington from Kansas, where the announcement was made of the cancellation of his speaking engagements. He went out for two automobile rides after his return, and it was not until the third day after his arrival that the alarming weakness overcame him. That there is general rejoicing throughout the land over the president's sure, if slow, recovery, is revealed in the hundreds of letters that reach the executive office every day from all conditions of people expressing gratification over the fortunate outcome of the chief executive's illness. At one time there seemed to be a general disposition to criticize the president's physicians for the seemingly unsatisfactory character of the daily bulletins that were issued. The physicians insisted then that they were not withholding any information, and in the light of later developments the public now realizes that they were perfectly frank in their statements.

Very Few Have Seen Him.

In all the time that the president has been confined to his bed in the White House not to exceed a half dozen persons outside the attending physicians and the members of his immediate family have been permitted to see him. For the first three weeks no one outside of the members of the immediate family was permitted to visit him. Then the rule was stretched so as to permit Joseph P. Tumulty, the presidential secretary, to visit him once a day and talk to him privately about pressing government business. The next person outside of the family circle permitted to talk with him was A. Mitchell Palmer, the attorney general, who found it necessary to consult him when the miners' strike developed. Then came Albert, king of the Belgians, and the queen of the Belgians, and their son.

Now the physicians are permitting him to see one or two members of the cabinet each day if they have pressing business to present, and United States senators are allowed to slip in for short conferences. No attempt is made to conceal the fact that the president's physical strength has returned rather slowly. It has not kept pace with the activity of his mind. For more than a month he has been asking daily for permission to transact more business than his physicians would permit him to touch. The next step of the physicians will be permission for him to go automobile riding again, a form of recreation of which he is exceedingly fond. While the physicians in their professional capacity will not of course make any prediction as to when the president's health will be fully restored, the general talk about the executive offices is that he ought to be squarely on his feet by the first of January.

Public Business Didn't Suffer.

When the president was stricken a good deal of concern was expressed not only here in Washington but in various sections of the country lest the government's business might suffer for lack of presidential attention. As a matter of fact, the great government machine has moved along about as usual. Fortunately there was nothing of vital importance requiring the president's signature during the three weeks when his illness prostrated him. The cabinet met the emergency in a most satisfactory way. Under the leadership of Robert Lansing, secretary of state, it began holding regular meetings as soon as the word went out that the president might be laid up for a long time, and it was found necessary to hold a good many special meetings. The cabinet members showed no hesitancy in taking the initiative in dealing with many large problems, and the general verdict here is that the government's business has in no way suffered during the weeks the president has been shut in.

It is foreseen that by the time the president is able to enter fully into the activities of his office there will be numerous foreign problems and a number of domestic problems pressing for his consideration.

SHOW WAR'S APPALLING COST

Figures Reveal Price World Paid to Prevent Hunnish Hordes Extinguishing Light of Liberty.

Some comparative figures which force a realization of the magnitude of the world war are given in Henry Ford's Dearborn Independent, from which is quoted:

"There were 19 major wars fought in the world in the 117 years from 1793 to 1910. The late war cost 50 per cent more in lives and cost 700 per cent more in money spent than the whole 19 other wars put together.

"The most costly in lives of the previous wars was that between England and France, 1793-1815, a total of 1,900,000 men having perished.

"Next came the war of 1854-'56, in which England, France, Sardinia, Turkey, Austria and Russia fought; 609,797 men were killed.

The more recent war between Russia and Japan came third, claiming the lives of 555,900 men.

"In our own Civil war both sides together lost 494,400 men, ranking fourth in loss of life in the great wars previous to the late one.

"In the struggle between France and Germany, so disastrous to France and which played a very important part in the recent peace settlement, 311,000 lives were lost.

"We Americans who remember or have read of the Civil war, of Gettysburg, of Pickett's charge, of Sherman's march to the sea, of Andersonville, have been wont to look on it as one of terrible slaughter—and it was.

"But Russia alone lost more than three times as many men in the late war as were lost by both the North and the South in the Civil war.

Germany lost more than three times as many.

"France lost nearly three times as many.

"Great Britain lost nearly twice as many.

"Austria lost nearly twice as many.

"So great has been the development in the engines of death that it is almost impossible to conceive the increase of fatalities in the late war as compared with previous wars.

"There were 69 years of war among the various nations in the 117 years prior to 1910.

"As nearly as can be learned, 5,098,007 men lost their lives in those wars.

"That would mean 73,885 lives lost a year, or about 200 a day.

"In the late war there were 200 men killed an hour, about 4,800 for every day of the war; a total of 7,450,200, according to the best available figures. That would be about 1,750,000 a year.

"In money cost of previous wars the French-English war, 1793-1815, comes first with its tax of $6,250,000,000."
